FiscalHub user guide: for partners

As a FiscalHub partner (an accountant, a software vendor or a consultant) you bring companies to FiscalHub. A commission partner earns a share of what its companies pay; a reseller gets its companies a lower price (its discount) and charges them for its own services. If you build software, the Zoho bridge also lets your system work with the Zoho Books of the companies you serve. Sign in with the account the platform owner created for you.

1. Your overview

The Overview shows:

- how many companies you brought, and how many are still waiting for approval;
- what you have earned (your commission % of their paid invoices) and what is still owed to you;
- your referral link and code;
- the registrations from your link and their status.

Your companies, commission and referral link.

2. Bring a company

1. Click Copy next to your referral link and send it to the company (email, WhatsApp).
2. The company registers through the link, or types your code on the registration page.
3. When the platform owner approves it, it becomes one of your companies and you start earning on what it pays.

3. Your companies

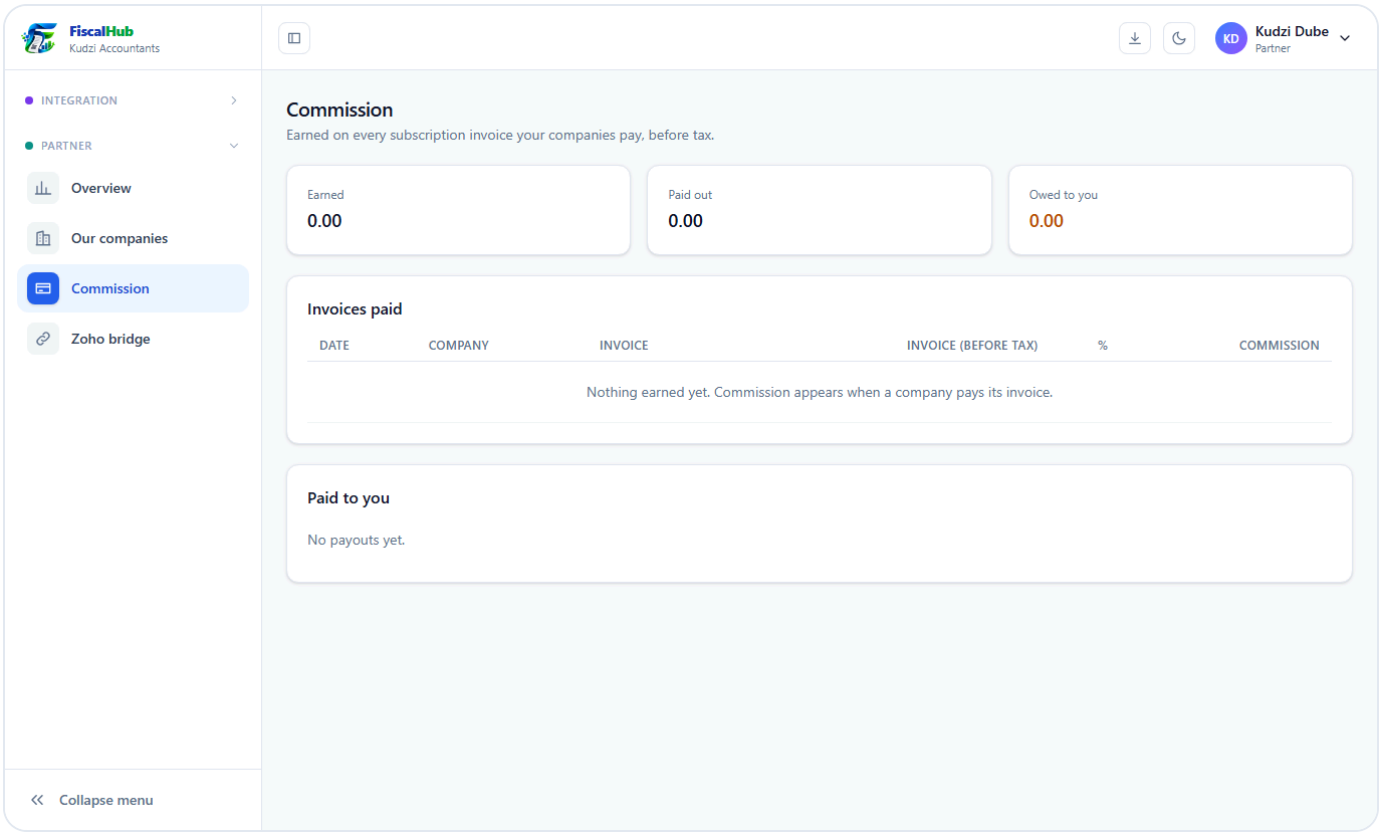

Our companies shows each company you brought: its plan, since when it is with you, your commission rate, its devices, its receipts in the last 30 days and the commission it has earned you. Their receipts and books stay private to them.

The companies you brought.

4. Commission

Commission is your statement: every commission line from your companies' paid invoices, the payouts the platform owner has made to you, and the balance still owed.

5. Zoho bridge (for software partners)

With the Zoho bridge, your system can read and write the Zoho Books data of the companies you work for, through FiscalHub, without handling Zoho sign-ins or tokens.

1. Each company enters your partner code under its Zoho Books → Partner access, and chooses which modules you may use and whether you may write.
2. Under Zoho bridge, create an API key (it starts with `fhb_` and is shown once) and, if you want to be told about changes, set a webhook address.
3. Your developers call FiscalHub with the key. The Developer docs (Zoho bridge for partners) describe every call and field.

Your bridge keys, webhook and the companies that shared with you.
